Palm Sunday
Philippians 2:6-11
Year after year, Lent after Lent, we hear the same call to repentance: “This is the time of fulfillment. The reign of God is at hand! Reform your lives and believe in the Good News!” When we hear these words on the First Sunday of Lent they are urgent and strong. The one thing we have in common, the one universal fact regardless of our age, social status, gender, health, possessions, gifts, talents, etc. ...is sin. We all come to church in need of reform and in need of the mercy of God. What goes wrong? How can we be resolute of will and clear of vision sometimes and yet nonetheless fall?

The season of Lent offers us a time to reflect on the call to holiness that we have all received. We are constantly reminded that holiness is not easy nor is it automatic. If it were, everyone would be a saint. No sincere believer will say that holiness is not a good thing. But it is hard...and so we often choose what looks good to us and is easier to swallow. Yet, we are invited to embrace God's plan for us, even though at times it may seem hard, if not impossible. Jesus teaches us that we must be willing to die to our own will if we wish to bear fruit for God. Dying to our will is not easy. No one said it was. The agony in the garden that our Lord went through tells us that it wasn't easy for Him either. Jesus, Himself, was troubled, and yet fully embraced the Father's will for Him. We are called on to do the same. We may have to struggle, or we may have to endure agony, as Jesus did. But if we do, we too will bear fruit for God and gain Eternal Life.

The important thing is to put our lives in God's hands with complete trust. The important thing is to let go of our lives and let God do with them whatever He wishes. The important thing is to remember that there is nothing we have to go through on our own: Jesus is our constant help and support. As we draw closer to the end of our Lenten season, we are invited to once again renew our commitment to the call to holiness that we have received and allow that holiness to strengthen us in our efforts to respond to the Lord’s invitation to return to Him with all our heart.

May grace and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with all of you!
